For immediate release (Longmont, Colorado January 14, 2010): Sangat Precision to Exhibit at SPIE Defense, Security & Sensing Show –

Sangat Precision Machining & Grinding is pleased to announce the company will have a presence at the 2010 SPIE Defense Security & Sensing (D, S & S) show to be held April 5-9, 2010 in Orlando, Florida. D, S & S is the largest unclassified international symposium relating to sensors, sensing systems, and platforms. Sangat Precision plans to leverage the company's presence at the show to drive sales for the manufacture of optical mounts and positioners for companies in the photonics industry.

"We feel that exhibiting at the SPIE Defense & Security Sensing Show will provide exposure for Sangat Precision to the world's leading manufacturers of photonics-related devices. In addition, we feel that our reputation for quality and on-time delivery will make Sangat Precision an attractive option for many companies seeking reliable suppliers of optical components and positioners," says Lou Primavera, Sales Manager for Sangat Precision Machining & Grinding.

Sangat Precision Machining & Grinding is a Longmont, Colorado-based precision manufacturing company.
